REV. FATHER KOEHNE.

The Silver Jubilee Elegantly Observed at Logansport.

The celebration of the silver jubilee of of Rev. Father Koehne, at Logansport, yesterday, was inaugurated by a pleasant social entertainment.

A mass appropriate to the jubilee service was held in the new church building in the morning, all the visiting priests and a large number of citizens being in attendance.

The main entrance of the church was tastefully decorated with flags, as was also Rev. Father Koehne's residence.

The following clergy from a distance were present at the exercises: Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger, of Fort Wayne; Rt. Rev. Bishop Rademacher, Nashville, Tenn.; Very Rev. J. H. Brammer, V. G., Fort Wayne; Rev. E. Koenig, Fort Wayne; Rev. J. F. Lang, bishop's secretary, Fort Wayne; Rev. A. Messman, Fort Wayne; Rev. B. Weiden, New Haven.

Father Koehne left to-day on his trip to Europe, accompanied by Robert Kreuzberger, jr. They have arranged to visit Ireland, Scotland, Germany, Italy and France. They will be absent about three months. The reverend gentleman has received a number of handsome and useful presents, among the collection being a silver water service, by Very Rev. Father Brammer, vicar general.

A Close Call.

While approaching the Fair grounds yesterday afternoon Geo. Heller, driver of street car No. 7, forcibly ejected John E. Noble, an electrician residing on High street, from the front platform while the car was in motion. The man had been drinking and reeled about so that he fell behind the heels of the horse. The car ran on to him and dragged him under the wheels fifteen or twenty feet. His body threw the car off the track, but the man miraculously escaped death. Occupants of the car assisted the man to the sidewalk and later he was taken home where he must remain for a long time as his injuries cannot but be severe and dangerous.

It is said he insulted the driver, but a driver who will push a drunken man from a platform while the car is in motioon ought to be insulted and discharged.

Noble is doing well enough to-day and was at the City hospital. His left knee cap is fractured and the muscles of the limb lacerated. No bones are broken but the man is erratic and will not stand bandages on his wounds, making his case doubtful.

Drs. Greenewalt and McOscar are attending him.

The Champions Defeated.

There was an interesting game of ball at the Fair grounds yesterday afternoon, interesting because the Fort Wayne boys played magnificent ball and vanquished the Logansport champions.

Rogers, the new pitcher of the "Ottos" was hit all over the diamond, and the home team hit the change pitcher also.

The Fort Wayne boys played all around the "Ottos," who met their first defeat yesterday.

The score was 16 to 4.

BISHOPS ELECTED!

The Bishops Chosen by the General Conference of the Methodist Church at New York City.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The Methodist conference last night elected two bishops, Rev. John Heyl Vincent, D. D., L. L. D., of Rock River, Ill., and Rev. J. N. Fitzgerald, D. D., of Newark, N. J., on the third ballot. There were 459 votes cast, and of this number Dr. Vincent received 311 and Dr. Fitzgerald 310 votes.

TO-DAY'S SESSION.

The election of bishops was continued this morning at the general Methodist episcopal conference. The result of the fifth ballot was that I. W. Joyce, the pastor of the St. Paul's church of Cincinnati, was elected by a vote of 326 out of 449 votes cast, 300 votes necessary to a choice. Dr. D. A. Goodsell got 286, Dr. John P. Newman 237, Charles H. Payne 167, and Earl Cranston 119.

The sixth ballot was ordered and a vote cast in less than half an hour.

While the tellers were out the committee on revisals reported several proposed changes in the discipline. One of these charges concerned the relations of church choirs to the government of the church. The present tendency to introduce operatic and other "high-fa-lutin" music into the church service was deprecated and on motion of Col Bay the item relating to church music was amended so as to make the music committees amenable to the general conferences.

The sixth and seventh ballots resulted in no choice.

The eighth ballot was taken a little before noon, and when counted resulted in no election. The same vote was cast, but Earl Cranston gained twenty-nine, Dr. Newman gained nine and Goodsell gained four, while Dr. Payne lost thirty-nine.

When the tellers returned with the result of the ballot, evidences of repeating were found. Two votes were found that were thrown out, one consisted of a slip of paper nearly torn in two through the center strips.

The names of two candidates were written on each slip in the same other hand writing, seemingly fraudulent. The ballot consisted of two pieces of paper with the corners turned down, so that two could be counted as one and separated in half. The two pieces of paper were identical in size, had same corner turned down and contained the same candidate's name and were the same handwriting. A resolution commending the action of the tellers in throwing out the suspicious ballots was passed.

The ninth and tenth ballots resulted in no choice and the conference adjourned until to-morrow.

UGLY THINGS.

The Colored Brethren Accused of Entering Saloons and Doing Other Scandalous Acts.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 23.—Some dark rumors have quietly been circulated recently with reference to certain members of the African Methodist Episcopal conference and the conference has reluctantly been compelled to investigate certain charges which put some professed Christian ministers in a bad plight.

Several rumors were discussed. One was to the effect that a member had been found in a house in a state of beastly intoxication, with several nauseating circumstances connected with the case. Another rumor that received much attention was that another member had been caught in a house of ill-fame and had paid certain parties $10 to keep the matter quiet. Several speeches were made during the session in favor of not investigating, on the ground that an investigation would likely throw disgrace on the conference. It is thought the rumors will be further investigated, however.

Members have been observed to enter the rear and side doors of saloons, but some worse rumors than these were discussed in an executive session of the conference yesterday. It was there charged by a bishop that a flask partly filled with whisky had actually been found in a room in the church in close proximity to the pulpit. Very little could be learned of what occurred during the session other than that the meeting was a remarkable one.

THE BRIBERY TRIAL.

A Sensational Scene During the Welsh Bribery Trial.

CHICAGO, May 23.—There was another sensational scene in the Welch bribery trial this morning, when the attorney for the prosecution moved that Welch be required to give bail for his appearance in court, and also that Sumner C. Welch, C. B. Holmes and Wm. Starkey be held to the grand jury on the criminal charge of conspiracy to defeat the ends of justice. The arguments on the motion will be heard Monday. The court fixed Welch's bail at $5,000. C. B. Holmes is superintendent of the Chicago City railway.

RICHMOND, Ind., May 23.—The grand jury has returned sixty indictments against as yet unknown persons.

Among the indictments returned by the grand jury were twelve against ex-Auditor T. W. O. Braffett for extortion. He was arrested on a bench warrant and promptly gave bail in the sum of $100 each on the twelve indictments, John B. Dougan becoming his surety. The charge is obtaining exorbitant fees.

The "Q" Strike.

GALESBURG, Ill., May 23.—The Burlington strikers, in compliance with instructions from their grand officers, voted on the question of continuing the strike. All but three voted for such continuance. The same action was taken in the other lodges of the Burlington system, and word from Creston, Denver and other points indicates that the same action generally was for continuance.

ELKHART, Ind., May 23.—A sneak thief entered the rear of J. B. Davenport's store yesterday while the proprietor was busy with a confederate of the thief's, and stole the cash box from the safe, the key was hanging in the lock. The fellow got a good-sized sum and has not been caught.

THE PRESBYTERIANS

The Members of the Southern General Assembly Arrive to Participate in the Proceedings.

PHILADELPHIA, May 23.—In the Presbyterian general assembly the revision of hymn books was indorsed. The publication of improper advertisements in the church newspapers was deprecated. It was voted that in view of the present unsettled opinion relating to the revised version it was inexpedient to authorize its use in public worship.

Corresponding delegates from sister religious bodies were received. Rev. James Crawford, from the Reformed church in the United States, delivered an address. Rev. Wm. M. Baum, D. D., from the Lutheran church, also delivered an address.

Rev. Geo. W. Huntington, Reformed Episcopal delegate, Rev. M. Barr and Dr. Richard Storrs, also spoke for the churches represented by them.

This afternoon the general assembly will go to Overbrook, there to meet the members of the southern general assembly, who will unite in to-morrow's joint celebration in this city. Both bodies will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wistar Morris.

COUNTERFEITERS CAPTURED.

Federal Authorities Capture an Extensive Gang of Bogus Money Makers.

Deputy Federal Marshal James Wilkinson, Deputy Sheriff Tom Wilkinson and Mr. Killen went to Geneva, Adams county, yesterday, and raided a den of counterfeiters. They captured William Bair, Amos Walker and John Weilman and secured a full kit of plaster paris moulds for making clever counterfeit coin of the dime, fifty cent and one dollar denominations. The queer pieces were finished on an electro plate apparatus, and would deceive most people when properly polished and nicked.

Bair is a jeweler and the leader of the gang. He has a fine store at Geneva, a wife and daughter in society, and he was caught in the very act of making the bogus coin. His accomplices are farmers.

The party had a lot of the "queer" and instructions for making it on hand. They sold it for twenty-five and thirty-five cents on the dollar, and did an extensive trade as far east as New York. This is regarded as a great catch and involves a great many people in Adams county.

ANOTHER CAPTURE.

Federal Officer Wilkinson received a telegram from Celina, Ohio, that Jake Bair, another member of the gang, was under arrest there. He was brought in this afternoon.

Two or more arrests are to follow and revelations startling to Adams county people are expected, as the prisoners stand high in the community.

Their preliminary hearing is in progress this afternoon.

Mr. Joe Clark.

There is no improvement in the condition of Mr. Clark this morning. He slept well last night, but does not rally. Dr. Sweringen says there is a chance of his recovery, but no hope.

He has every care and comfort at his apartments. His nephews, Messrs. Ed. and Frank Wood, live in this city.

Mr. Jasper W. Jones, of Jackson township, is announced as a democratic candidate for county commissioner, subject to the decision of the democracy. He is a life long democrat, a strong party worker and a man worthy of any honor the party can bestow on him.

The court holds that while congress may not have intended the act against foreign contract labor to apply to ministers, it does so apply, and its plain language must be obeyed.

THAT famous mansion in Washington, the publication of a picture of which by the Minnesota press cost Mr. Windom his seat in the Senate, has been sold to a Chicago lady for $70,000. Since that untoward happening to Windom, there has been little disposition on the part of socially ambitious Senators to build costly mansions in Washington. They prefer now to rent them. Even then they take good care not to have them photographed.

BISHOP FOWLER believes a good idea, even if stolen, will put to rout a myriad of platitudes. He advises some young preachers at Hoboken as follows: "Grace is free, but brains and ability are not. You must have ideas to preach from, and, if you haven't got any of your own, steal them. But be honest about it and own up like a man and your congregation will not be offended. They like an abundance of ideas even if they are borrowed."

AN unpretentious-looking man with a short brown beard, a derby hat and unfashionable clothes is often seen walking briskly up Broadway, New York. It is ex-Gov. Geo. Hoadly, of Ohio, who is now making an annual income of $50,000 in the Metropolis as attorney for several railroads. When Gov. Hoadly had finished his term he realized that there was no future for him in Ohio, so he went to New York. His success here has been more than up to his expectations.

IN the sixth annual report of the Director of the United States Geological Survey, Prof. Shaler estimates that the improvable marshes of our entire eastern coast amount to at least 3,000,000 acres. Fully 200,000 acres of salt marsh lands are situated between Portland and New York, all of which are capable of being reclaimed from the sea by dikes and brought under cultivation profitable enough to make them yield a profit on a valuation of $200 per acre, while the cost of reclaiming them ought not to exceed one-fifth of that sum. These lands are unsurpassed in fertility as garden soils, and are practically inexhaustible.

THE London Times seems to share Queen Victoria's admiration for the Battenbergs. Of Prince Alexander it says: "He is one of the most brave, most gentle, most valorous, and most handsome of living princes. In all the idyls of poetry there has not indeed been a more perfect hero than Prince Alexander. The whole story of his campaign against the Servians sounds like an epic. He started with an inferior force. By his pluck, his energy, and his extraordinary talent as a strategist, he turned all the odds that were against him, and came out victorious from a campaign in which everybody prophesied his defeat."

SIR DONALD SMITH, who has donated $1,000,000 to the Royal Victoria College for Women at Montreal, is one of the wealthiest as well as one of the most philanthropic men in Montreal. He is of Scotch nativity, and accumulated much of his fortune as a member of the Hudson's Bay Company, with which he was connected for many years. For a time he was a member of the Canadian Parliament. His residence is one of the finest in the city, and his private collection of paintings is very valuable. He is about seventy years old, and his only daughter was married March 8, last. Previous notable donations by Sir Donald were $125,000 to McGill College, and in conjunction with Sir George Stephen, $500,000 to Victoria Hospital.

GOVERNOR-ELECT ROYAL C. TAFT, of Rhode Island, was born at Northbridge, Mass., Feb. 14, 1823. He was very young when his parents removed to Uxbridge, where, he lived until 1844. He then made Providence, R. I., his home, taking a clerk's duties in a wool house. After seven years' experience in the business he became partner in a firm engaged in the woolen manufacture. He retired in 1885, the possessor of ample means. In 1855-56 he was a member of the Common Council, Providence, and from 1880 to 1884 a member of the General Assembly of Rhode Island. He is President of the Merchant's National Bank, and President of the Corporation of the Rhode Island Hospital.

Facts About the Bible.

A prisoner, condemned to solitary confinement, obtained a copy of the Bible, and by three years' careful study, obtained the following facts:

The Bible contains 3,586,489 letters, 773,692 words, 31,173 verses, 1,189 chapters, and 66 books. The word "and" occurs 46,277 times. The word "Lord" occurs 1,855 times. The word "reverend" occurs but once, which is in the 9th verse of the 11th Psalm. The middle verse is the 8th verse of the 118th Psalm. The 21st verse of the 7th chapter of Ezra contains all the letters in the alphabet except the letter J. The finest chapter to read is the 26th chapter of the Acts of the Apostles. The 19th chapter of II. Kings and the 37th chapter of Isiah are alike. The longest verse is the 9th verse of the 8th chapter of Esther. The shortest verse is the 37th verse of the 11th chapter of St. John. The 8th, 15th, 21st, and 31st verses of the 107th Psalm are alike. All the verses of the 136th Psalm are alike. There are no words or names of more than six syllables.

In chronic diseases, medicines should be restoring, and not debilitating, in their action. The wonderful strengthening and curative effects, realized from the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, sustain the reputation of this remedy as the most popular blood purifier.

SCORES OF DEMOCRATS.

Curious Finds.

In a lake in Berkshire a large misshapen and unwieldy chub was found, so strange in appearance and unsightly in its movements that the most apt zoologist could not account for its lineal descent or say if it was piscatory or amphibious. The creature was found in a kind of cage formed by the washed roots of an elm tree by this lake. When young and much smaller the fish must have got into its strange prison. Limited to a mere turn, the wonder is that—as it must have forced its way in—it did not force its way out; but here it was, after years must have elapsed, taking quite the form of the gnarled and struggling roots. With no room to develop, the tail had almost disappeared, the dorsal fin was altogether obliterated, and the body had become very hard, and the scales like so much incrustation of mud divided into layers. The nose was so pushed in and the gills so enlarged that, when looked at full in the face, it had the appearance of a negro whose face had been despoiled of its shining and oily surface. Indeed, its existence was a matter of marvel, as the water subsided and increased at times, so that in dry weather it had only the moist muddy home and a semifluid for its subsistence. When removed it seemed a puzzle to know whether to class this strange discovery as a reptile, fish, or anything else.

As some workmen were felling timber, near Herne Bay, they discovered in the center of one of the trees a cavity in which were the remains of a cat. The skeleton was entire, and some hair of a sandy color yet remained on the skin. It is conjectured that the animal, having entered a hollow part of the tree, was unable to extricate itself, and the wood in process of years had grown around it.

Curious finds have not unfrequently been made in trees. Some woodcutters in the forest in Drommling made a strange discovery. They began to fell a venerable oak, which they soon found to be quite hollow. Being half decayed it speedily came to the ground with a crash, disclosing a skeleton in excellent preservation; even the boots, which came above the knee were perfect. By its side were a powderhorn, a porcelain pipe-bowl, and a silver watch. The teeth were perfect. It would seem to be the skeleton of a man between thirty and forty years of age. It is conjectured that, while engaged in hunting, he climbed the tree for some purpose, and slipped into the hollow trunk, from which there was no release, and he probably died from starvation. Another mystery was found in the heart of an oak. From a tree of this kind a large block, eighteen inches in diameter, that had been knocking about in various yards and woodsheds, was split up lately, and in it was found an auger-hole about three-fourths of an inch in size, containing a bunch of human hair, done up in a piece of printed paper. The hair was near the center of the block, and fastened in with a pine plug. It was apparently put in when the tree was quite small, as the tree had grown over the plug to the thickness of about four inches, with the grain perfectly smooth and straight. — Chambers' Journal.

A FRIGHTFUL SKIN DISEASE.

Sufferings Intense. Head nearly raw. Body covered with Sores. Cured by the Cuticura Remedies.

Messrs. STEVENS & BRUNER, Monroe, N. C.

Dear Sirs.—About two months ago, on your recommendation, I bought a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, one box of Cuticura Salve, and one cake of Cuticura Soap, for my son, aged thirteen years, who has been afflicted with eczema for a long time, and I am pleased to say that I believe the remedies have cured him. His sufferings were intense, his head being nearly raw, his ears being gone except the gristle, and his body was covered with sores. His condition was frightful to behold. The sores have now all disappeared, his skin is healthy, eyes bright, cheerful in disposition, and is working every day. My neighbors are witnesses to this remarkable cure, and the doubting ones are requested to call or write me, or any of my neighbors.

We are selling quite a quantity of Cuticura Remedies and hear nothing but praises for them. We regard the Cuticura Remedies the best in the market, and shall do all we can to promote their sale. Yours truly,

Sneezing Catarrh.

The distressing sneeze sneeze, sneeze, the acrid watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headaches,—how familiar these symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or influenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of Sanford's Radical Cure for Catarrh will afford instantaneous relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh, yes but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing affected, smell and taste gone, throat ulcerated and hacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvelous curative power of Sanford's Radical Cure manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

WHAT AILS YOU?

Do you feel dull, languid, low-spirited, lifeless, and indescribably miserable, both physically and mentally; experience a sense of fullness or bloating after eating, or of "goneness," or emptiness of stomach in the morning, tongue coated, bitter or bad taste in mouth, irregular appetite, dizziness, frequent headaches, blurred eyesight, "floating specks" before the eyes, nervous prostration or exhaustion, irritability of temper, hot flushes, alternating with chilly sensations, sharp, biting, transient pains here and there, cold feet, drowsiness after meals, wakefulness, or disturbed and unrefreshing sleep, constant, indescribable feeling of dread, or of impending calamity?

If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from that most common of American maladies—Bilious Dyspepsia, or Torpid Liver, associated with Dyspepsia, or Indigestion. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. No matter what stage it has reached, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will subdue it, if taken according to directions for a reasonable length of time. If not cured, complications multiply and Consumption of the Lungs, Skin Diseases, Heart Disease, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease, or other grave maladies are quite liable to set in and, sooner or later, induce a fatal termination.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts powerfully upon the Liver, and through that great blood-purifying organ, cleanses the system of all blood-taints and impurities, from whatever cause arising. It is equally efficacious in acting upon the Kidneys, and other excretory organs, cleansing, strengthening, and healing their diseases. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it promotes digestion and nutrition, thereby building up both flesh and strength. In malarial districts, this wonderful medicine has gained great celebrity in curing Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, and kindred diseases.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

from a common Blotch, or Eruption, to the worst Scrofula. Salt-rheum, "Fever-sores," Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine. Great Eating Ulcers rapidly heal under its benign influence. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Hip-joint Disease, "White Swellings," Goitre, or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands. Send ten cents in stamps for a large Treatise, with colored plates, on Skin Diseases, or the same amount for a Treatise on Scrofulous Affections.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

Thoroughly cleanse it by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength and bodily health will be established.

CONSUMPTION,

which is Scrofula of the Lungs, is arrested and cured by this remedy, if taken in the earlier stages of the disease. From its marvelous power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now world-famed remedy to the public, Dr. Pierce thought seriously of calling it his "CONSUMPTION CURE," but abandoned that name as too restrictive for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for Consumption, but for all Chronic Diseases of the Liver, Blood, and Lungs.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Chronic Nasal Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections, it is an efficient remedy.

Sold by Druggists, at $1.00, or Six Bottles for $5.00.

Martyrs to Headache

Seek relief in vain, until they begin to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Then they regret the years of suffering they might have escaped had they tried this remedy earlier. The trouble was constitutional not local; and, until Ayer's Sarsaparilla did its effective work as an Alterative and Blood Purifier, they were compelled to suffer.

The wife of Samuel Page, 21 Austin st., Lowell, Mass., was, for a long time, subject to severe headaches, the result of stomach and liver disorders. A perfect cure has been effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frank Roberts, 727 Washington st., Boston, says that he formerly had terrible headaches, and until he took Ayer's Sarsaparilla, never found any medicine that would give

Permanent Relief.

"Every Spring, for years," writes Lizzie W. DeVean, 262 Fifteenth st., Brooklyn, N. Y., "I have had intolerable headaches. I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla last March, and have not had a headache since that time."

"I suffered from headache, indigestion, and debility, and was hardly able to drag myself about the house," writes Mrs. M. M. Lewis, of A st., Lowell, Mass. "Ayer's Sarsaparilla has worked a marvelous change in my case. I now feel strong and well as ever."

Jonas Garman, Esq., of Lykins, Pa., writes: "For years I have suffered dreadfully, every Spring, from headache, caused by impurity of the blood and bilousness. It seemed for days and weeks that my head would split open. Nothing relieved me till I took Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has cured me completely."

When Mrs. Genevra Belanger, of 24 Bridge st., Springfield, Mass., began to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, she had suffered for some years from a serious affection of the kidneys. Every Spring, also, she was afflicted with headache, loss of appetite, and indigestion. A friend persuaded her to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which benefited her wonderfully. Her health is now perfect. Martyrs to headache should try

John Boylan, formerly of the Pittsburg car shops, has taken a position as traveling salesman for I. N. Taylor.

The Wabash took thirty-five persons from this city yesterday to different western points and nine for Austin, Texas.

The candidates for office at the coming fall elections are beginning to buzz around the boys in the shops and our reporter has lots of politics shoved at him.

The passenger business on the railroads is looming up in great shape and the ticket agents have been kept busy during the last few days.

Peter J. Hohnhauser, of the Bass works, is doing honors over the arrival of a girl baby at his home, on Taylor street, and is receiving many congratulations.

The boys in the shops, are now busily engaged in talking the merits of the different congressional candidates, and considerable interest is manifested in the democratic primaries to be held next Saturday.

Mr. Frank Terry, formerly a passenger engineer on the Grand Rapids road, but now master mechanic for the T., M. & S., road, is in the city negotiating with the Wabash for the leasing of several locomotives for his road.

Fred Armack, formerly of the Pittsburg shops, but now employed at LaPorte, is at home on a visit, wearing his old smile and greeting his many friends. He reports Lew Miller and T. N. Kucher, the preacher, as doing well, and added "Chip," as our reporter left him, "THE SENTINEL never fails to reach us every morning, telling us of the doings of the boys at Wayne."

Wm. Kanning, as the captain of the Pittsburg car shop nine, has issued a challenge to the nine of the machine shops to play a game of base ball next Saturday on Hamilton's commons, and the same has been accepted. The game will be a pretty one, as both nines are confident of their ability to beat the other, and if our reporter should judge from the talk, he would say that both sides would beat.

THE BUILDING BOOM.

Mr. J. B. Barnes to Erect a Handsome Business Building on Berry Street.

Mr. J. B. Barnes is making preparations for the erection of a three story brick business building on West Berry street, adjoining the residence of Dr. Shyrock. The building will have a stone front and will be pushed to completion this summer. The plans are in the hands of Mr. H. W. Matson, the architect, and will be built to suit the conveniences and desire of the parties to whom it will be leased.

Workmen are excavating for J. B. White's new block, at the corner of Wayne and Calhoun streets. The building will extend along the 'bus barn from the Y. M. C. A. block to Wayne street. The Calhoun street entrance will be from the brick store room adjoining the express office.

The excavations for D. N. Foster's business block, on East Berry street, are in progress.

Personal Mention.

The Huntington Democrat says:

A Mr. Beckstein, of Fort Wayne, is a new man at the Chicago and Atlantic shops.

Miss Annie Miesch, of Fort Wayne, visited her parents and other relatives in the city yesterday.

John Dolan, of Fort Wayne, returned to Fort Wayne yesterday morning, after visiting relatives over Sunday.

Gotlieb Pohler sent 300 German carp from his fish pond west of the city, to Fort Wayne, Monday evening.

A party from Fort Wayne consisting of Misses Chubb, Bacher and Lizzie Drover and Messrs. Harry Gibford, Will Buckles and Mr Hite, Sundayed here. Accompanied by Herman Drover and lady they visited North Manchester en masse and returned home on the 10 o'clock train yesterday.

Keil Bros. Sell Out.

The Toledo Journal corroborates the statement of THE SENTINEL a day or so ago and says that Fred C. Nicholas, F. C. Cratsley and Harry Burgert have purchased Keil Bros. book and paper store in this city. The Journal adds: "They sever their connection with the Toledo house June 15, and take possession of their new wholesale and retail business in Fort Wayne, July 14."

The mayor disposed of three ordinary drunks in the usual way to-day.

Curious Facts About Wills.

The numerous instances on record of the trouble and litigation which have arisen from the doubtful expression and intention of testators, omissions, loss of the document, their destruction by vermin and otherwise, would fill an interesting volume. The delay, too, of men of property in making their wills till they become mentally incapable, or death prevents their doing so, as if it were executing a "death warrant," instead a simple business transaction, is to be regretted.

Among numerous celebrated cases may be mentioned that of the great real property lawyer, the late Lord St. Leonards, whose will could not be found, and was supposed to have been buried hidden about his person. Other eminent lawyers have failed to appoint executors, omitted the date or some important clause or word which has called for the intervention of the court and often resulted in depriving persons of what the testator intended them to have, to the enriching of the others, thus in some instances going to prove that the "man who is his own lawyer has a fool for a client."

A man will seldom bestow the same thought and care on his own affair that he will on those of other people. Through a clerical error I have seen "marital control" written "martial!"

For a long time it was customary to begin the document, "In the name of God, amen, I, A. B., being of sound mind and body," and so on, the intention evidently being to prevent questions arising as to the state of the testator's mind, undue influence, etc., but it is obvious that this mere statement, unsupported by evidence, could scarcely "hold law." Then, again, men formerly gave back their souls to their Maker. I once came across the probate of a will of a sea-faring man, which ran: "First, I humbly bequeath my soul to God, my Maker, beseeching His gracious acceptance and forgiveness of all my sins; my body I give to the earth or sea, as it shall please Him to order. My worldly affairs I dispose of as follows."

Most lawyers, while propely resenting interference with their province, "red tape," by "amateurs," often reap a rich harvest from the usual bundling of such meddlers. I remember a case where a party had his will prepared, and a codicil afterwards indorsed in proper legal form. Requiring a second codicil, he thought it an easy matter to add it himself and thus save expense. He wrote it all right, taking the previous one for a guide, and called in two "credible" persons, who affixed their names as "witnesses" to its due "execution." But the testator had unfortunately omitted to sign it, and it doubtless formed a nice point of law for the court to decide as to whether being written by the testator himself, combined, of course with the witnesses' signatures and testimony, it constituted "execution" of the codicil.

The term "Cut off with a shilling" has become the subject of a stage play, and it bears a well known relation to to wills. I question, however, whether there are many authentic instances of its having been actually employed in writing, being perhaps more significant of a father's threat to an offending son. I did, however, come across a genuine case in the improved will of a farmer, written by himself in a memorandum book, in which he said (inter alia): "I give to my son John one shilling, sterling, money of Great Britain.—Detroit Free Press.

Courts of Conciliation.

In Norway a court of conciliation, consisting of two judges, is established in every city and in every country district or settlement holding at least twenty families or households. The judges are by law, required to be "good men," and must be residents of their jurisdictions. They are elected by the people for a term of three years. The office is considered a non-political one, and to elect only the best men to fill it has become a custom as valid as law. As a rule only men of mature years, independent, and with excellent standing in the community, are chosen. The jurisdiction of the courts does not extend beyond civil causes. When a party intends to sue another party on any civil matter, the first thing to do is to summon the adversary before the proper court of conciliation. This court holds sessions once a week in cities, and once a month in the country districts. Three days' notice must be given in the cities, and from six days to eight weeks in the country districts. Lawyers are excluded. The parties meet in person; if they have lawful excuse they may be represented by some of their kin or household. The presiding judge reads the summons, and the complainant states his case and presents what evidence he thinks necesary and sufficient. Then the court requests the summoned party to make answer to the complaint.

When both sides have been heard, the judges state what in their judgment would be a fair and equitable settlement of the matter, and request the parties to consider the uncertainty and great cost of a trial. In most cases the parties, after some deliberation, in the presence of the judges, come to the conclusion that it will be best to effect a settlement. The agreement is accorded, each pays a fee of twenty-five cents, and they leave the court as conciliated as friends, and with a record of their agreement that has the force of a final, unimpeachable judgment. That is the end of the cause if the Sheriff is not called upon to enforce the agreement, which may be done by the levy of an execution. If the parties do not agree, the court of conciliation certifies to that effect, and the complainant may take the case before the court having power to try and determine causes.—Exchange.

The Carthusian Monks.

Each pere has two little rooms, with a workshop and garden attached, all in one piece, of two stories, so that, unlike the usual monastic arrangement, the Carthusian's abode is self-contained. Every Carthusian is, in fact, practically a hermit, with just a little more accommodation than the traditional hermit usually had. That may help to account for the remarkable fact that this order was about the only one which never degenerated so far from the primitive type as to need reformation. Dormitory gossip, drawing-room scandal-mongering, hanging about the pantry doors, quarreling, swearing, and stealing pastry were not possible under such unsocial conditions. The furniture is of the barest description. It consists of a wooden bed, a chair, a writing and dining table, a joiner's bench, a plain book case, the usual help to devotion, "the suffering Son of Man upon the wall," and a few religious pictures. A monk's food consists of one meal a day. This is pushed in by a sliding grating in the cloister wall, so that he never sees the person who brings it. It is made up of soup, fish, and vegetables on ordinary days, and on Fridays, and during lent simple bread and water, though this prison fare was in stricter times the rule for three days in each week. The silent fathers are now allowed the luxury of a fire in cold weather, though that is a worldly concession to modern ideas of comfort. The severity of the old fireless rule may be imagined when it is remembered that the monastery is over four thousand feet up and is buried in snow a great part of the year. There is a pathetic story of a father belonging to the other great Carthusian house in sunnier Calabria, who, when elected to the highest Carthusian dignity of prior of the parent monastery, willingly came, but came knowing for certain that the severity of the climate would speedily kill him. It was a call from the Lord, not to a better living. He obeyed it, and in a few months lay down to die. The great vow of silence, the great characteristic of the Carthusians, was easily kept by the self-contained arrangement just mentioned. Even on festival days, when they ate in common, this rule was strictly observed. It has been so far relaxed in modern times that the fathers are allowed to walk out together once a week and converse with one another, or even speak to others when spoken to. The time they have to spare from the offices, which are particularly lengthy, is taken up with reading, meditation, joinery, gardening, and cleaning. These fathers are mostly aristocrats of various nationalities. There are at present about forty in number. The "entrance fee" is large, the novitiate long and severe, the great life vows of fearful rigidity. The horse-hair shirt and linenless rules admit of no exception.—Good Words.

That Tired Feeling

Afflicts nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body, and also expels all impurities from the blood. Try it this season.

Advice to Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Smiles Returned for Coppers in Italy.

While the horse and the driver were getting their drink I stood in the roadway and watched some dark-eyed contadinas deftly balancing baskets full of olives on their pretty heads. I gave each of them some coppers and got in return more grazzias and sweet smiles than I could buy for as many dollars in Canal Street or in Broadway. The driver mounts to his seat; Milord, as he will call me, mounts to his, the young peasants courtesy almost to earth without toppling over a single basket, the tavern-keeper waves his hand, we dash on, and by and by we enter V[illegible] [illegible] Italian Letter.

That Tired Feeling

The warm weather has a debilitating effect, especially upon those who are within doors most of the time. The peculiar, yet common, complaint known as "that tired feeling," is the result. This feeling can be entirely overcome by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which gives new life and strength to all the functions of the body.

"I could not sleep; had no appetite. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling; and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, Ohio.

It is not very often that the railroad world is startled by fast running on the Grand Rapids and Indiana road, but there is some very clever time made on the southern division of that road, nevertheless. Yesterday evening Engineer James Anderson showed what he can do. The engine of the Grand Rapids train due at Richmond at 4:30 p. m., broke down at Fort Wayne an hour late. The distance to Richmond is ninety-three miles, yet Anderson made up the hour, coming into that city four minutes late. In the run he stopped fifteen minutes and in many instances he made a mile in fifty-three seconds. This is good time.

Messrs. M. Frank, Julius Nathan and A. Oppenheimer returned from Terre Haute last night. They say that seventy-five delegates from seven states attended the thirty-seventh annual convention of District Grand Lodge, No. 2, Independent Order of B'nai B'rith. President Brentano's report showed a decrease of fifty-six in the membership. During the year $40,000 was disbursed for forty death benefits in a membership of 8,000. The new buildings for the Cleveland Orphan asylum will be completed by July, but the cost is $50,000 more than the first estimate of $110,000. The fund of the district for the year was $124,000; receipts, $79,970, and disbursements about the same. There are 307 inmates at the orphan asylum.

THE MAYOR'S ANNUAL MESSAGE.

Gentlemen of the Council.

In entering upon the fourth year of the administration of the affairs of the city as its chief executive, it is proper that I should give some general review of the condition and necessities of the different departments of the city government, not only for the purpose of guiding us in the discharge of our duties in the future, but also to enable all of our citizens, whose servants and representatives we are, to better judge of how we have served them in the past.

FINANCES.

Three years ago, upon assuming the office of mayor, the bonded indebtedness of the city was $818,000, with $133,000 in the treasury and $26,000 uncollected taxes. At present the bonded indebtedness of the city is $740,000, with $120,000 in the treasury and $103,000 yet to be collected, making the indebtedness of the city $78,000 less, and the money on hand and to be collected $63,000 more, showing the city financially $141,000 better off than as compared with three years ago, an average gain of $47,000 a year; $15,000 of this amount was transferred from the water works to the general fund, it having been loaned to the water works from the general fund by a former council, the repayment of which was promised by the water works trustees. The large amount of uncollected taxes shown this year is occasioned by the fact that the taxes are now paid in semi-annual installments, and the second installment is unpaid. During the present year the F. W., M. and C. Railroad bonds, amounting to $99,000; the C., R. and F. W. bonds, amounting to $100,000, and the F. W., J. and S. bonds, amounting to $100,000, will mature, and ought all to be, in my judgment, refunded. I am sure the very excellent credit of the city will enable the council to refund them at a low rate of interest, thereby saving at least one-third of the interest now paid. As some of these bonds mature in October, and as some time is required in preparing the bonds and advertising them, the council will soon have to take the preliminary steps in preparing them for sale. My idea in recommending that they be refunded is that the amount is so large that it would be impossible to pay them without putting a great and sudden burden upon the people, besides they can be refunded at such a low rate that it would be a greater benefit to the people to keep this sum of money among the people, and thereby enabling the city to keep step with its most enterprising citizens in advancing its interest.

WATER WORKS.

During the year just past it has become clearly evident that our water supply is very deficient and some steps will have to be taken at once to afford an additional supply, or we may find during the coming year a water famine. The great increase in consumption and the necessity for flushing sewers during the warm season make the present supply entirely unreliable, and I would earnestly recommend that the council and water works trustees take such steps at once as will give to our citizens an abundant supply of pure and wholesome water. Ever since the building of our water works the question of supply has been, to say the least, a very vexatious one. Every year the same question of supply has came up during the dry season. It has prevented many a good man from being a candidate for the council and has been the means of defeating at the polls some of our best citizens simply because they were suspected of being upon one or the other side of this question. It has engendered among some of our citizens a feeling of animosity towards each other that bids fair to be transmitted to another generation, and that can only result in retarding our otherwise prosperous and progressive city, for whose advancement all of our citizens ought to be in harmony. The trustees of water works in their report to the council, at the last regular meeting, recommend that a committee be appointed to visit some of our neighboring cities to investigate their sources of supply and to get the benefit of their experience in obtaining water. There might be something gained by doing so, and it may enable the council to arrive at some plan by which the question of supply might be settled. If this be done I would recommend that a complete report be made of the condition of our water works, the different sources of supply, and then if the council and trustees cannot agree upon the best and most suitable plan to take, let the whole question be submitted to the people at a special election and let each and every one of our citizens vote his own tax and settle the question of source once and forever. In both of my former messages to the council I recommended the completion of the reservoir, for the reason that in case of an accident to the mains or to the pumping machinery, the city would be at the mercy of the flames if during such accident a fire should occur in the city, as our cisterns have all been abandoned, and the canal that used to afford a water supply for fires has also been done away with. Another good reason why it should be completed is the fact that another pumping engine will be necessary at once, if it is left in its present condition. With the reservoir completed and capable of storing 2,000,000 gallons of water, the present engines will do for several years to come, as the amount of water that would be stored would be sufficient until any ordinary break could be repaired. The city will very likely have to provide for all extensions and improvements out of her general fund, having no other source for means except such surplus as may be in the maintenance fund. If the reservoir is completed the grounds around it can be beautified and made as was originally intended a pleasure resort for all of our citizens. I ask the earnest, cordial co operation of the council and the water works trustees in bringing about the completion of the water works as soon as possible.

THE CITY.

At no time in the history of our city has there been such steady, substantial progress as during the past three years. Over one thousand building permits have been issued, the buildings estimated to cost over $1,500,000. Handsome business blocks, manufactories, residences and churches of the most approved architecture, buildings that would be an ornament to any city in the land, have been erected and others are in progress of building, and all over the city handsome homes and beautiful lawns give evidence of the prosperity and enterprise of our citizens, that is rapidly making our city one of the most desirable places to live. Notwithstanding the great number of buildings that have been erected, there is a great demand in all sections of the city for more; so quietly and naturally has our city grown that we hardly realized the great progress we have made, and only the stranger who comes to our city occasionally, or the citizen who has been away for a time, realizes how rapidly we are becoming one of the great cities of the west. There are few cities having more advantages for a great inland city than our own, situated on the line of three great trunk lines, with four other railroads running north and south, making our city one of the best distributing points in the west. The best evidence that our city is one or the best manufacturing locations in the west is the great prosperity of all that have been established here, all of whom started with limited means and some at least have attained colossal proportions. As a natural result of our many and varied manufactories we have the best and most skillful mechanics to be found in the union, many of whom own their own homes. Men who are competent and capable of taking positions in any enterprise that may be established here, thereby affording to manufacturers who are seeking a location not only one of the best manufacturing points, but also the skill required.

PARKS.

During the past year the progress made in the improvement of our public parks has been necessarily slow for the reason that not sufficient funds were on hand to prosecute the work with, and in the case of the Broadway park more particularly for the reason that the remains of many who were interred there had not been removed, and as many of the friends of the interred had removed to other localities it was neccessary to wait until their wishes with regard to them were made known, the council having been careful to notify all who had any interest in the matter, so far as they could determine. During the past four months the parks have been placed under the supervision of Mr. Geo. W. Doswell, under whose skillful direction the Broadway park is fast beginning to show what a pleasant resort for all it will become in a few years. There are now sufficient funds on hand to do all that can be done for the present in the way of improving the parks, such as grading, laying out walks, sowing grass seed and planting trees, shrubbery and flowers, and as it will take time for nature to develop them, I urge the council to complete the work as rapidly as possible.

STREETS.

During the past three years the sidewalks on both sides of Calhoun street, from Dock street to the P., Ft. W. & C. R. R., Columbia street on both sides, from Barr street to Harrison street, and the south side of Berry from Calhoun to Clinton have been widened to a width of twelve feet and paved with a uniform stone flag, and there is now under contract the north side of Berry street from Harrison street to Barr street and the south side of Berry from Calhoun to Harrison to be paved with the same material and to the same width, making in all about ten thousand feet of uniform stone flag sidewalk, not excelled in any city. There has also been about six thousand feet of the Macadam and cobble stone and about the same number of feet of cedar block street pavement laid and being laid, which when completed will give to us well improved business streets for many years to come. I would recommend that the council procure street sweepers at once, as I believe the improved streets could be kept constantly cleaned for a less sum than is now expended for their occasional cleaning. Our unimproved streets for the limited amount of money that we had to expend upon them have been with the exception of a few months in the year in excellent condition, and will compare favorably, I am sure, with the streets of any city. My experience and observation of another year tends to confirm the wisdom of narrowing the roadway of residence streets whenever the council order such improvement made, as the cost of making and maintaining them is very much less and the grass plot thereby afforded between the curb and sidewalk adds a great deal to the beauty of the street. I would also again recommend that wooden crossings be done away with and stone substituted. Stone would cost a little more to begin with, but would be much cheaper in the end, as wooden crossings have to be renewed every three or four years and are frequently in a condition dangerous to pedestrians. During the past year the duties of the civil engineer have been greatly increased and it has been impossible for him to give that attention to the work going on in different parts of the city that should be bestowed upon it, and in consequence there has been much complaint about the manner in which work was done, especially in the manner in which streets and alleys were left after sewers had been built. I believe that one inspector for all public work, whose duty it would be to report at every meeting of the council the condition and progress of the different contracts let, would enable the council to compel a better class of work and be cheaper for all concerned, than the appointment of an inspector for each sewer, as is now done.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The annual report of the chief engineer of the fire department is complete, and comprehensive and shows how well this arm of the public service has performed the duties required of it. We have now the Gamewell, the best and most approved fire alarm system, with forty-seven boxes. The great distance from the central engine house to the limits of the city and the great improvements going on in all parts of the city, make it absolutely necessary that the further distribution of the department be no longer delayed, and I join with the chief in urging the council to locate and procure the proper sites in the Fifth, Eighth and Ninth wards for the location of engines, and have houses built as speedily as possible. Another great and urgent need of the department is an improved hook and ladder truck. It is impossible to reach the high buildings now going up and I am informed by the chief that there is not a ladder in the department that will reach the fourth story of the Aveline house. From this fact the council can readily see how important to take prompt action in the matter. I also believe with the chief that a chemical engine would, in half the fires that occur, be all that would be necessary to control them, and would reduce the loss in most cases very materially, as the damage by water is very often much more than the damage by fire but as the saving would nearly always be for the insurance companies, and as in other cities insurance companies do very frequently assist the fire department, I believe they ought to furnish the department with the engine.

POLICE.

During the past year the police force has been increased from 18 to 27 men, not including the day and night clerks at the station house, which has enabled us to place six men on duty in the day time. The city has been divided into six districts and a police officer assigned to each district. Under the old system the day men went on duty at 7 a. m. and off duty at 6 p. m.; the night force went on duty at twilight and off duty at daybreak, leaving the city for several hours each day with no one on duty. Much complaint was justly made under the old system on account of roughs taking advantage of the time when no officers were on duty. Since the new system has been inaugurated no complaints have been made. During the past year the police alarm and patrol wagon have also been added to the department, giving us now one of the best and most complete systems in the west, and there are now at all hours, day or night, officers on duty to respond to an alarm that may be sent from any quarter of the city. During the past year the city has been as orderly and free from crime as any city of our population, but little serious crime having been committed during the past three years, but in most cases of a serious character the guilty parties have been captured and convicted, nor have there been any confidence men or thieves making their stay here during that time or any of them allowed to get a foot in this city. The police force, both day and night, have preserved the lives and property of our citizens, and as well, the enjoyment of the public streets unmolested by improper characters at all times, day or night.

CITY HALL.

Three years ago the council were all of the opinion that the city ought to begin to make preparations for the building of a new city hall. At that time it was the general opinion that the central engine house site was the proper place to build it, and the council were unanimously in favor of making a small levy each year until a sum sufficient to build it had accumulated. There has now accumulated in that fund about $30,000. Last year, however, the common council, in view of the fact that many other improvements were necessary, such as the division of the fire department, the building of a central engine house, the completion of the water works, all of which would have to be provided for before a new city hall could be built, and believing that they could best serve the city and the tax payer by disposing of the old central engine house property, and taking the proceeds, with the fund already on hand for that purpose, build the new city hall on the north end of the present site. By so doing it would not be necessary to make more than one more levy for that purpose.

The estimated cost of a central engine house would be about $12,000, and $4,000 each for the 5th, 8th and 9th ward houses, making in all $24,000 for that purpose, which would, with another levy, be ample for a handsome, commodious city building, and give to our progressive city all the improvements without any further taxation.

HEALTH.

During the past year the health of the city has been remarkably good. There has been a decrease this year over last in the death rate from contagious diseases. There has been some scarlet fever, diphtheria and typhoid fever, there being 28 deaths during the past year from those diseases. As all of those diseases are aided and accelerated by uncleanliness, I trust that all of our citizens will assist the board of health in helping it make the city clean as speedily as possible by placing their premises in the best condition at once, thereby relieving the board of the duty and trouble of compelling them to do so by prosecution.

NATURAL GAS.

In concluding my recommendations, I will refer to the natural gas question by saying that the council will have before it to-night for consideration a general ordinance, substantially like the one under which three companies are now operating in Indianapolis, both to the advantage of its citizens and the fair remuneration of the companies. While the prices fixed are among the lowest of any city, it pays the companies fair returns. Indianapolis, I believe, goes ten miles for its supply. If by reason of the necessity of going a greater distance to supply our city the cost is increased, I am satisfied our council would agree to any change in the ordinance that would be fair to our people and just to a company, and I may say to any company looking towards supplying our city with gas, I have no fear of your ability to get a fair and just ordinance. Our city wants natural gas and will do whatever is just to get it.

CONCLUSION

The credit of the progress and prosperity of your city belongs in the greatest measure to its officers and representatives. The council, by its watchfulness and care, have kept the appraisement down to about $16,000,000, what it was 13 years ago, although, as a matter of fact, the city has more than doubled its wealth and population in that time. By good judgment the levy has been kept at one dollar, whereas it was formerly one dollar and twenty cents. With this low levy and appraisement, through the good judgment of the council and the faithful energy of its officers, the city has kept in step with the progressive march of its most enterprising citizens. I now ask of you all to keep on in your good work; guard faithfully and execute with good judgment, as you have in the past, the general public service entrusted to you by the people, to whom we all must answer, and you will have in the near future the satisfaction of knowing that you were architects in the making and building of one of the principal cities of the great west.

REPORT OF THE WATER WORKS TRUSTEES.

Since our meeting with the committee on water works we have received letters from Dayton and Hamilton, Ohio, in regard to the water supply, of the most favorable character. The situation at Hamilton was precisely like our own. Their supply came from a large artificial basin 70 feet wide 500 feet in length. For a time this supply was sufficient, but as it way only eighteen feet deep, they had to look for more water. They have put down a number of pipes under the Wagoner system, in their present basin, and although they are not connected with the pumps they have a flow into the basin of over three million gallons daily.

These letters are of such an assuring character that we hope a committee of gentlemen of the council will visit these cities for the purpose of investigating the subject thoroughly, so that we may proceed as soon as possible to increase and improve our own supply.

The test we have already made with the small pipe in our basin convinces us that we can receive our supply in the same manner as is done in Hamilton.

REV. FATHER KOEHNE.

The Silver Jubilee Elegantly Observed at Logansport.

The celebration of the silver jubilee of of Rev. Father Koehne, at Logansport, yesterday, was inaugurated by a pleasant social entertainment.

A mass appropriate to the jubilee service was held in the new church building in the morning, all the visiting priests and a large number of citizens being in attendance.

The main entrance of the church was tastefully decorated with flags, as was also Rev. Father Koehne's residence.

The following clergy from a distance were present at the exercises: Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger, of Fort Wayne; Rt. Rev. Bishop Rademacher, Nashville, Tenn.; Very Rev. J. H. Brammer, V. G., Fort Wayne; Rev. E. Koenig, Fort Wayne; Rev. J. F. Lang, bishop's secretary, Fort Wayne; Rev. A. Messman, Fort Wayne; Rev. B. Welden, New Haven.

Father Koehne left to-day on his trip to Europe, accompanied by Robert Krenzberger, jr. They have arranged to visit Ireland, Scotland, Germany, Italy and France. They will be absent about three months. The reverend gentleman has received a number of handsome and useful presents, among the collection being a silver water service, by Very Rev. Father Brammer, vicar general.

A Close Call.

While approaching the Fair grounds yesterday afternoon Geo. Heller, driver of street car No. 7, forcibly ejected John E. Noble, an electrician residing on High street, from the front platform while the car was in motion. The man had been drinking and reeled about so that he fell behind the heels of the horse. The car ran on to him and dragged him under the wheels fifteen or twenty feet. His body threw the car off the track, but the man miraculously escaped death. Occupants of the car assisted the man to the sidewalk and later he was taken home where he must remain for a long time as his injuries cannot but be severe and dangerous.

It is said he insulted the driver, but a driver who will push a drunken man from a platform while the car is in motion ought to be insulted and discharged.

Noble is doing well enough to-day and was at the City hospital. His left knee cap is fractured and the muscles of the limb lacerated. No bones are broken but the man is erratic and will not stand bandages on his wounds, making his case doubtful.

Drs. Greenawalt and McOscar are attending him.

The Champions Defeated.

There was an interesting game of ball at the Fair grounds yesterday afternoon, interesting because the Fort Wayne boys played magnificent ball and vanquished the Logansport champions.

Rogers, the new pitcher of the "Ottos" was hit all over the diamond, and the home team hit the change pitcher also.

The Fort Wayne boys played all around the "Ottos," who met their first defeat yesterday.

The score was 16 to 4.

BISHOPS ELECTED!

The Bishops Chosen by the General Conference of the Methodist Church at New York City.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The Methodist conference last night elected two bishops, Rev. John Heyl Vincent, D. D., L. L. D., of Rock River, Ill., and Rev. J. N. Fitzgerald, D. D., of Newark, N. J., on the third ballot. There were 459 votes cast, and of this number Dr. Vincent received 311 and Dr. Fitzgerald 310 votes.

TO-DAY'S SESSION.

The election of bishops was continued this morning at the general Methodist episcopal conference. The result of the fifth ballot was that I. W. Joyce, the pastor of the St. Paul's church of Cincinnati, was elected by a vote of 326 out of 449 votes cast, 300 votes necessary to a choice. Dr. D. A. Goodsell got 286, Dr. John P. Newman 237, Charles H. Payne 167, and Earl Cranston 119.

The sixth ballot was ordered and a vote cast in less than half an hour.

While the tellers were out the committee on revisals reported several proposed changes in the discipline. One of these changes concerned the relations of church choirs to the government of the church. The present tendency to introduce operatic and other "high-falutin" music into the church service was deprecated and on motion of Col. Ray the item relating to church music was amended so as to make the music committees amenable to the general conference.

The sixth and seventh ballots resulted in no choice.

The eighth ballot was taken a little before noon, and when counted resulted in no election. The same vote was cast, but Earl Cranston gained twenty-nine, Dr. Newman gained nine and Goodsell gained four, while Dr. Payne lost thirty-nine.

When the tellers returned with the result of the ballot, evidences of repeating were found. Two votes were found that were thrown out, one consisted of a slip of paper nearly torn in two through the center strips.

The names of two candidates were written on each slip in the same other hand writing, seemingly fraudulent. The ballot consisted of two pieces of paper with the corners turned down, so that two could be counted as one and separated in half. The two pieces of paper were identical in size, had same corner turned down and contained the same candidate's name and were the same handwriting. A resolution commending the action of the tellers in throwing out the suspicious ballots was passed.

The ninth and tenth ballots resulted in no choice and the conference adjourned until to-morrow.

UGLY THINGS.

The Colored Brethren Accused of Entering Saloons and Doing Other Scandalous Acts.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 23.—Some dark rumors have quietly been circulated recently with reference to certain members of the African Methodist Episcopal conference and the conference has reluctantly been compelled to investigate certain charges which put some professed Christian ministers in a bad plight.

Several rumors were discussed. One was to the effect that a member had been found in a house in a state of beastly intoxication, with several nauseating circumstances connected with the case. Another rumor that received much attention was that another member had been caught in a house of ill-fame and had paid certain parties $10 to keep the matter quiet. Several speeches were made during the session in favor of not investigating, on the ground that an investigation would likely throw disgrace on the conference. It is thought the rumors will be further investigated, however.

Members have been observed to enter the rear and side doors of saloons, but some worse rumors than these were discussed in an executive session of the conference yesterday. It was there charged by a bishop that a flask partly filled with whisky had actually been found in a room in the church in close proximity to the pulpit. Very little could be learned of what occurred during the session other than that the meeting was a remarkable one.

THE BRIBERY TRIAL.

A Sensational Scene During the Welch Bribery Trial.

CHICAGO, May 23.—There was another sensational scene in the Welch bribery trial this morning, when the attorney for the prosecution moved that Welch be required to give bail for his appearance in court, and also that Sumner C. Welch, C. B. Holmes and Wm. Starkey be held to the grand jury on the criminal charge of conspiracy to defeat the ends of justice. The arguments on the motion will be heard Monday. The court fixed Welch's bail at $5,000. C. B. Holmes is superintendent of the Chicago City railway.

PHILADELPHIA, May 23.—In the Presbyterian general assembly the revision of hymn books was indorsed. The publication of improper advertisements in the church newspapers was deprecated. It was voted that in view of the present unsettled opinion relating to the revised version it was inexpedient to authorize its use in public worship.

COUNTERFEITERS CAPTURED.

Federal Authorities Capture an Extensive Gang of Bogus Money Makers.

Deputy Federal Marshal James Wilkinson, Deputy Sheriff Tom Wilkinson and Mr. Killen went to Geneva, Adams county, yesterday, and raided a den of counterfeiters. They captured William Bair, Amos Walker and John Wellman and secured a full kit of plaster paris moulds for making clever counterfeit coin of the dime, fifty cent and one dollar denominations. The queer pieces were finished on an electro plate apparatus, and would deceive most people when properly polished and nicked.

Bair is a jeweler and the leader of the gang. He has a fine store at Geneva, a wife and daughter in society, and he was caught in the very act of making the bogus coin. His accomplices are farmers.

The party had a lot of the "queer" and instructions for making it on hand. They sold it for twenty-five and thirty-five cents on the dollar, and did an extensive trade as far east as New York. This is regarded as a great catch and involves a great many people in Adams county.

ANOTHER CAPTURE.

Federal Officer Wilkinson received a telegram from Celina, Ohio, that Jake Bair, another member of the gang, was under arrest there. He was brought in this afternoon.

Two or more arrests are to follow and revelations startling to Adams county people are expected, as the prisoners stand high in the community.

Their preliminary hearing is in progress this afternoon.

THAT famous mansion in Washington, the publication of a picture of which by the Minnesota press cost Mr. Windom his seat in the Senate, has been sold to a Chicago lady for $70,000. Since that untoward happening to Windom, there has been little disposition on the part of socially ambitious Senators to build costly mansions in Washington. They prefer now to rent them. Even then they take good care not to have them photographed.

BISHOP FOWLER believes a good idea, even if stolen, will put to rout a myriad of platitudes. He advises some young preachers at Hoboken as follows: "Grace is free, but brains and ability are not. You must have ideas to preach from, and, if you haven't got any of your own, steal them. But be honest about it and own up like a man and your congregation will not be offended. They like an abundance of ideas even if they are borrowed."

AN unpretentious-looking man with a short brown beard, a derby hat and unfashionable clothes is often seen walking briskly up Broadway, New York. It is ex-Gov. Geo. Hoadly, of Ohio, who is now making an annual income of $50,000 in the Metropolis as attorney for several railroads. When Gov. Hoadly had finished his term he realized that there was no future for him in Ohio, so he went to New York. His success here has been more than up to his expectations.

IN the sixth annual report of the Director of the United States Geological Survey, Prof. Shaler estimates that the improvable marshes of our entire eastern coast amount to at least 3,000,000 acres. Fully 200,000 acres of salt marsh lands are situated between Portland and New York, all of which are capable of being reclaimed from the sea by dikes and brought under cultivation profitable enough to make them yield a profit on a valuation of $200 per acre, while the cost of reclaiming them ought not to exceed one-fifth of that sum. These lands are unsurpassed in fertility as garden soils, and are practically inexhaustible.

THE London Times seems to share Queen Victoria's admiration for the Battenbergs. Of Prince Alexander it says: "He is one of the most brave, most gentle, most valorous, and most handsome of living princes. In all the idyls of poetry there has not indeed been a more perfect hero than Prince Alexander. The whole story of his campaign against the Servians sounds like an epic. He started with an inferior force. By his pluck, his energy, and his extraordinary talent as a strategist, he turned all the odds that were against him, and came out victorious from a campaign in which everybody prophesied his failure."

SIR DONALD SMITH, who has donated $1,000,000 to the Royal Victoria College for Women at Montreal, is one of the wealthiest as well as one of the most philanthropic men in Montreal. He is of Scotch nativity, and accumulated much of his fortune as a member of the Hudson's Bay Company, with which he was connected for many years. For a time he was a member of the Canadian Parliament. His residence is one of the finest in the city, and his private collection of paintings is very valuable. He is about seventy years old, and his only daughter was married March 8, last. Previous notable donations by Sir Donald were $125,000 to McGill College, and in conjunction with Sir George Stephen, $5,00,000 to Victoria Hospital.

GOVERNOR-ELECT ROYAL C. TAFT, of Rhode Island, was born at Northbridge, Mass., Feb. 14, 1823. He was very young when his parents removed to Uxbridge, where, he lived until 1844. He then made Providence, R. I., his home, taking a clerk's duties in a wool house. After seven years' experience in the business he became partner in a firm engaged in the woolen manufacture. He retired in 1885, the possessor of ample means. In 1855–56 he was a member of the Common Council, Providence, and from 1880 to 1884 a member of the General Assembly of Rhode Island. He is President of the Merchant's National Bank, and President of the Corporation of the Rhode Island Hospital.

There are no words or names of more than six syllables.

In chronic diseases, medicines should be restoring, and not debilitating, in their action. The wonderful strengthening and curative effects, realized from the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, sustain the reputation of this remedy as the most popular blood purifier.

Curious Finds.

In a lake in Berkshire a large misshapen and unwieldy chub was found, so strange in appearance and unsightly in its movements that the most apt zoologist could not account for its lineal descent or say if it was piscatory or amphibious. The creature was found in a kind of cage formed by the washed roots of an elm tree by this lake. When young and much smaller the fish must have got into its strange prison. Limited to a mere turn, the wonder is that—as it must have forced its way in—it did not force its way out; but here it was, after years must have elapsed, taking quite the form of the gnarled and struggling roots. With no room to develop, the tail had almost disappeared, the dorsal fin was altogether obliterated, and the body had become very hard, and the scales like so much incrustation of mud divided into layers. The nose was so pushed in and the gills so enlarged that, when looked at full in the face, it had the appearance of a negro whose face had been despoiled of its shining and oily surface. Indeed, its existence was a matter of marvel, as the water subsided and increased at times, so that in dry weather it had only the moist muddy home and a semifluid for its subsistence. When removed it seemed a puzzle to know whether to class this strange discovery as a reptile, fish, or anything else.

As some workmen were felling timber, near Herne Bay, they discovered in the center of one of the trees a cavity in which were the remains of a cat. The skeleton was entire, and some hair of a sandy color yet remained on the skin. It is conjectured that the animal, having entered a hollow part of the tree, was unable to extricate itself, and the wood in process of years had grown around it.

Curious finds have not unfrequently been made in trees. Some woodcutters in the forest in Drommling made a strange discovery. They began to fell a venerable oak, which they soon found to be quite hollow. Being half decayed it speedily came to the ground with a crash, disclosing a skeleton in excellent preservation; even the boots, which came above the knee were perfect. By its side were a powderhorn, a porcelain pipe-bowl, and a silver watch. The teeth were perfect. It would seem to be the skeleton of a man between thirty and forty years of age. It is conjectured that, while engaged in hunting, he climbed the tree for some purpose, and slipped into the hollow trunk, from which there was no release, and he probably died from starvation. Another mystery was found in the heart of an oak. From a tree of this kind a large block, eighteen inches in diameter, that had been knocking about in various yards and woodsheds, was split up lately, and in it was found an auger-hole about three-fourths of an inch in size, containing a bunch of human hair, done up in a piece of printed paper. The hair was near the center of the block, and fastened in with a pine plug. It was apparently put in when the tree was quite small, as the tree had grown over the plug to the thickness of about four inches, with the grain perfectly smooth and straight. — Chambers' Journal.

A FRIGHTFUL SKIN DISEASE.

Sufferings Intense. Head nearly raw. Body covered with Sores. Cured by the Cuticura Remedies.

Messrs. STEVENS & BRUNER, Monroe, N. C.

Dear Sirs.—About two months ago, on your recommendation, I bought a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, one box of Cuticura Salve, and one cake of Cuticura Soap, for my son, aged thirteen years, who has been afflicted with eczema for a long time, and I am pleased to say that I believe the remedies have cured him. His sufferings were intense, his head being nearly raw, his ears being gone except the gristle, and his body was covered with sores. His condition was frightful to behold. The sores have now all disappeared, his skin is healthy, eyes bright, cheerful in disposition, and is working every day. My neighbors are witnesses to this remarkable cure, and the doubting ones are requested to call or write me, or any of my neighbors.

We are selling quite a quantity of Cuticura Remedies and hear nothing but praises for them. We regard the Cuticura Remedies the best in the market, and shall do all we can to promote their sale. Yours truly,

Sneezing Catarrh.

The distressing sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, the acrid watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headaches,—how familiar these symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or influenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of Sanford's Radical Cure for Catarrh will afford instantaneous relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh; yes but a faint idea of what this wonderful will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing affected, smell and taste gone, throat ulcerated and hacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvelous curative power of Sanford's Radical Cure manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

WHAT AILS YOU?

Do you feel dull, languid, low-spirited, lifeless, and indescribably miserable, both physically and mentally; experience a sense of fullness or bloating after eating, or of "goneness," or emptiness of stomach in the morning, tongue coated, bitter or bad taste in mouth, irregular appetite, dizziness, frequent headaches, blurred eyesight, "floating specks" before the eyes, nervous prostration or exhaustion, irritability of temper, hot flushes, alternating with chilly sensations, sharp, biting, transient pains here and there, cold feet, drowsiness after meals, wakefulness, or disturbed and unrefreshing sleep, constant, indescribable feeling of dread, or of impending calamity?

If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from that most common of American maladies—Bilious Dyspepsia, or Torpid Liver, associated with Dyspepsia, or Indigestion. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. No matter what stage it has reached, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will subdue it, if taken according to directions for a reasonable length of time. If not complicated with other diseases, or some deep-seated, organic affection, such as Consumption of the Lungs, Skin Diseases, Heart Disease, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease, or other grave maladies are quite liable to set in and, sooner or later, induce a fatal termination.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts powerfully upon the Liver, and through that great blood-purifying organ, cleanses the system of all blood-taints and impurities, from whatever cause arising. It is equally efficacious in acting upon the Kidneys, and other excretory organs, cleansing, strengthening, and healing their diseases. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it promotes digestion and nutrition, thereby building up both flesh and strength. In malarial districts, this wonderful medicine has gained a great celebrity in curing Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, and kindred diseases.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

CURES ALL HUMORS,

from a common Blotch, or Eruption, to the worst Scrofula. Salt-rheum, "Fever-sores," Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine. Great Eating Ulcers rapidly heal under its benign influence. Especially has it manifested its efficacy in curing Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Hip-joint Disease, "White Swellings," Goitre, or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands. Send ten cents in stamps for a large Treatise, with colored plates, on Skin Diseases, or the same amount for a Treatise on Scrofulous Affections.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

Thoroughly cleanse it by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength and bodily health will be established.

CONSUMPTION,

which is Scrofula of the Lungs, is arrested and cured by this remedy, if taken in the earlier stages of the disease. From its marvelous power over this terrible fatal disease, when first offering this now world-famed remedy to the public, Dr. Pierce thought seriously of calling it his "CONSUMPTION CURE," but abandoned that name as too restrictive for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, and bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for Consumption, but for all Chronic Diseases of the Liver, Blood, and Lungs.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Chronic Nasal Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections, it is an efficient remedy.

Martyrs to Headache

Seek relief in vain, until they begin to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Then they regret the years of suffering they might have escaped had they tried this remedy earlier. The trouble was constitutional not local; and, until Ayer's Sarsaparilla did its effective work as an Alterative and Blood Purifier, they were compelled to suffer.

The wife of Samuel Page, 21 Austin st., Lowell, Mass., was, for a long time, subject to severe headaches, the result of stomach and liver disorders. A perfect cure has been effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frank Roberts, 727 Washington st., Boston, says that he formerly had terrible headaches, and until he took Ayer's Sarsaparilla, never found any medicine that would give

Permanent Relief.

"Every Spring, for years," writes Lizzie W. DeVeau, 202 Fifteenth st., Brooklyn, N. Y., "I have had intolerable headaches. I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla last March, and have not had a headache since that time."

"I suffered from headache, indigestion, and debility, and was hardly able to drag myself about the house," writes Mrs. M. M. Lewis, of A st., Lowell, Mass. "Ayer's Sarsaparilla has worked a marvelous change in my case. I now feel strong and well as ever."

Jonas Garman, Esq., of Lykins, Pa., writes: "For years I have suffered dreadfully, every Spring, from headache, caused by impurity of the blood and biliousness. It seemed for days and weeks that my head would split open. Nothing relieved me till I took Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has cured me completely."

When Mrs. Genevra Belanger, of 24 Bridge st., Springfield, Mass., began to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, she had suffered for some years from a serious affection of the kidneys. Every Spring, also, she was afflicted with headache, loss of appetite, and indigestion. A friend persuaded her to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which benefited her wonderfully. Her health is now perfect. Martyrs to headache should try

MUSTANG LINIMENT

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT, used vigorously is death to Swinney, Wind Galls, Sore Backs,

ECHOES OF THE RAIL.

The Day's Talk as It is Gathered Around the Railroads and Manufactories of the City.

The Pittsburg road is doing a big business to western points.

The Summit City Poultry association is doing a flourishing business.

The Wabash ticket office now sports a handsome carpet on the floor.

The new engines and boilers in the Olds wheel works will soon be in operation.

The moulders of the Bass works will give an excursion to Rome City on the 11th of June.

The Wabash pay car was in the city to-day and the employes of that road received their monthly pay.

The Olds wheel works are arranging for an excursion to Rome City for their employes in the near future.

Al Estry, conductor on the Wabash, has returned to duty again after having been off on account of injuries.

Frank Morgan, of the Fort Wayne iron works, has been off duty for a few days on account of an injured eye.

John Boylan, formerly of the Pittsburg car shops, has taken a position as traveling salesman for I. N. Taylor.

The Wabash took thirty-five persons from this city yesterday to different western points and nine for Austin, Texas.

The candidates for office at the coming fall elections are beginning to buzz around the boys in the shops and our reporter has lots of politics shoved at him.

The passenger business on the railroads is looming up in great shape and the ticket agents have been kept busy during the last few days.

Peter J. Hohnhauser, of the Bass works, is doing honors over the arrival of a girl baby at his home, on Taylor street, and is receiving many congratulations.

The boys in the shops, are now busily engaged in talking the merits of the different congressional candidates, and considerable interest is manifested in the democratic primaries to be held next Saturday.

Mr. Frank Terry, formerly a passenger engineer on the Grand Rapids road, but now master mechanic for the T., M. & S., road, is in the city negotiating with the Wabash for the leasing of several locomotives for his road.

Fred Armack, formerly of the Pittsburg shops, but now employed at LaPorte, is at home on a visit, wearing his old smile and greeting his many friends. He reports Lew Miller and T. N. Kuchler, the preacher, as doing well, and added "Chip," as our reporter left him, "THE SENTINEL never fails to reach us every morning, telling us of the doings of the boys at Wayne."

Wm. Kanning, as the captain of the Pittsburg car shop nine, has issued a challenge to the nine of the machine shops to play a game of base ball next Saturday on Hamilton's commons, and the same has been accepted. The game will be a pretty one, as both nines are confident of their ability to beat the other, and if our reporter should judge from the talk, he would say that both sides would beat.

THE BUILDING BOOM.

Mr. J. B. Barnes to Erect a Handsome Business Building on Berry Street.

Mr. J. B. Barnes is making preparations for the erection of a three story brick business building on West Berry street, adjoining the residence of Dr. Shyrock. The building will have a stone front and will be pushed to completion this summer. The plans are in the hands of Mr. H. W. Matson, the architect, and will be built to suit the conveniences and desire of the parties to whom it will be leased.

Workmen are excavating for J. B. White's new block, at the corner of Wayne and Calhoun streets. The building will extend along the bus barn from the Y. M. C. A. block to Wayne street. The Calhoun street entrance will be from the brick store room adjoining the express office.

The excavations for D. N. Foster's business block, on East Berry street, are in progress.

Personal Mention.

The Huntington Democrat says:

A Mr. Beckstein, of Fort Wayne, is a new man at the Chicago and Atlantic shops.

Miss Annie Miesch, of Fort Wayne, visited her parents and other relatives in the city yesterday.

John Dolan, of Fort Wayne, returned to Fort Wayne yesterday morning, after visiting relatives over Sunday.

Gollieb Pohler sent 300 German carp from his fish pond west of the city, to Fort Wayne, Monday evening.

A party from Fort Wayne consisting of Misses Chubb, Bacher and Lizzie Drover and Messrs. Harry Gibford, Will Buckles and Mr Hite, Sundayed here. Accompanied by Herman Drover and lady they visited North Manchester en masse and returned home on the 10 o'clock train yesterday.

Keil Bros. Sell Out.

The Toledo Journal corroborates the statement of THE SENTINEL a day or so ago and says that Fred C. Nicholas, F. C. Crailsley and Harry Burgert have purchased Keil Bros. book and paper store in this city. The Journal adds: "They sever their connection with the Toledo house June 15, and take possession of their new wholesale and retail business in Fort Wayne, July 14."

The mayor disposed of three ordinary drunks in the usual way to-day.

Curious Facts About Wills.

The numerous instances on record of the trouble and litigation which have arisen from the doubtful expression and intention of testators, omissions, loss of the document, their destruction by vermin and otherwise, would fill an interesting volume. The delay, too, of men of property in making their wills till they become mentally incapable, or death prevents their doing so, as if it were executing a "death warrant," instead a simple business transaction, is to be regretted.

Among numerous celebrated cases may be mentioned that of the great real property lawyer, the late Lord St. Leonards, whose will could not be found, and was supposed to have been buried hidden about his person. Other eminent lawyers have failed to appoint executors, omitted the date or some important clause or word which has called for the intervention of the court and often resulted in depriving persons of what the testator intended them to have, to the enriching of the others, thus in some instances going to prove that the "man who is his own lawyer has a fool for a client."

A man will seldom bestow the same thought and care on his own affair that he will on those of other people. Through a clerical error I have seen "marital control" written "martial!"

For a long time it was customary to begin the document, "In the name of God, amen, I, A. B., being of sound mind and body," and so on, the intention evidently being to prevent questions arising as to the state of the testator's mind, undue influence, etc., but it is obvious that this mere statement, unsupported by evidence, could scarcely "hold law." Then, again, men formerly gave back their souls to their Maker. I once came across the probate of a will of a sea-faring man, which ran: "First, I humbly bequeath my soul to God, my Maker, beseeching His gracious acceptance and forgiveness of all my sins; my body I give to the earth or sea, as it shall please Him to order. My worldly affairs I dispose of as follows."

Most lawyers, while propely resenting interference with their province, "red tape," by "amateurs," often reap a rich harvest from the usual bundling of such meddlers. I remember a case where a party had his will prepared, and a codicil afterwards indorsed in proper legal form. Requiring a second codicil, he thought it an easy matter to add it himself and thus save expense. He wrote it all right, taking the previous one for a guide, and called in two "credible" persons, who affixed their names as "witnesses" to its due "execution." But the testator had unfortunately omitted to sign it, and it doubtless formed a nice point of law for the court to decide as to whether being written by the testator himself, combined, of course with the witnesses' signatures and testimony, it constituted "execution" of the codicil.

The term "Cut off with a shilling" has become the subject of a stage play, and it bears a well known relation to to wills. I question, however, whether there are many authentic instances of its having been actually employed in writing, being perhaps more significant of a father's threat to an offending son. I did, however, come across a genuine case in the improved will of a farmer, written by himself in a memorandum book, in which he said (inter alia): "I give to my son John one shilling, sterling, money of Great Britain.—Detroit Free Press.

Courts of Conciliation.

In Norway a court of conciliation, consisting of two judges, is established in every city and in every country district or settlement of not less than twenty families or households. The judges are by law, required to be "good men," and must be residents of their jurisdictions. They are elected by the people for a term of three years. The office is considered a non-political one, and to elect only the best men to fill it has become a custom as valid as law. As a rule only men of mature years, independent, and with excellent standing in the community, are chosen. The jurisdiction of the courts does not extend beyond civil causes. When a party intends to sue another party on any civil matter, the first thing to do is to summon the adversary before the proper court of conciliation. This court holds sessions once a week in cities, and once a month in the country districts. Three days' notice must be given in the cities, and from six days to eight weeks in the country districts. Lawyers are excluded. The parties meet in person; if they have lawful excuse they may be represented by some of their kin or household. The presiding judge reads the summons, and the complainant states his case and presents what evidence he thinks necesary and sufficient. Then the court requests the summoned party to make answer to the complaint.

When both sides have been heard, the judges state what in their judgment would be a fair and equitable settlement of the matter, and request the parties to consider the uncertainty and great cost of a trial. In most cases the parties, after some deliberation, in the presence of the judges, come to the conclusion that it will be best to effect a settlement. The agreement is accordad, each pays a fee of twenty-five cents, and they leave the court as conciliated as friends, and with a record of their agreement that has the force of a final, unimpeachable judgment. That is the end of the cause if the Sheriff is not called upon to enforce the agreement, which may be done by the levy of an execution. If the parties do not agree, the court of conciliation certifies to that effect, and the complainant may take the case before the court having power to try and determine causes.—Exchange.

The Carthusian Monks.

Each pere has two little rooms, with a workshop and garden attached, all in one piece, of two stories, so that, unlike the usual monastic arrangement, the Carthusian's abode is self-contained. Every Carthusian is, in fact, practically a hermit, with just a little more accommodation than the traditional hermit usually had. That may help to account for the remarkable fact that this order was about the only one which never degenerated so far from the primitive type as to need reformation. Dormitory gossip, drawing-room scandal-mougering, hanging about the pantry doors, quarreling, swearing, and stealing pastry were not possible under such unsocial conditions. The furniture is of the barest description. It consists of a wooden bed, a chair, a writing and dining table, a joiner's bench, a plain book case, the usual help to devotion, "the suffering Son of Man upon the wall," and a few religious pictures. A monk's food consists of one meal a day. This is pushed in by a sliding grating in the cloister wall, so that he never sees the person who brings it. It is made up of soup, fish, and vegetables on ordinary days, and on Fridays, and during lent simple bread and water, though this prison fare was in stricter times the rule for three days in each week. The silent fathers are now allowed the luxury of a fire in cold weather, though that is a worldly concession to modern ideas of comfort. The severity of the old fireless rule may be imagined when it is remembered that the monastery is over four thousand feet up and is buried in snow a great part of the year. There is a pathetic story of a father belonging to the other great Carthusian house in sunnier Calabria, who, when elected to the highest Carthusian dignity of prior of the parent monastery, willingly came, but came knowing for certain that the severity of the climate would speedily kill him. It was a call from the Lord, not to a better living. He obeyed it, and in a few months lay down to die. The great vow of silence, the great characteristic of the Carthusians, was easily kept by the self-contained arrangement just mentioned. Even on festival days, when they see in common, this rule was strictly observed. It has been so far relaxed in modern times that the fathers are allowed to walk out together once a week and converse with one another, or even speak to others when spoken to. The time they have to spare from the offices, which are particularly lengthy, is taken up with reading, meditation, joinery, gardening, and cleaning. These fathers are mostly aristocrats of various nationalities. There are at present about forty in number. The "entrance fee" is large, the povitiate long and severe, the great life vows of fearful rigidity. The horse-hair shirt and linenless rules admit of no exception.—Good Words.

That Tired Feeling

Affects nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body, and also expels all impurities from the blood. ry it this season.

Advice to Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Smiles Returned for Coppers in Italy.

While the horse and the driver were getting their drink I stood in the roadway and watched some dark-eyed contadinas deftly balancing baskets full of olives on their pretty heads. I gave each of them some coppers and got in return more grazzias and sweet smiles than I could buy for as many dollars in Canal Street or in Broadway. The driver mounts to his seat; Milord, as he will call me, mounts to his, the young peasants courtesy almost to earth without toppling over a single basket, the tavern-keeper waves his hand, we dash on, and by and by we enter Ventimille.—Italian letter.

That Tired Feeling

The warm weather has a debilitating effect, especially upon those who are within doors most of the time. The peculiar, yet common, complaint known as "that tired feeling," is the result. This feeling can be entirely overcome by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which gives new life and strength to all the functions of the body.

It is not very often that the railroad world is startled by fast running on the Grand Rapids and Indiana road, but there is some very clever time made on the southern division of that road, nevertheless. Yesterday evening Engineer James Anderson showed what he can do. The engine of the Grand Rapids train due at Richmond at 4:30 p. m., broke down at Fort Wayne an hour late. The distance to Richmond is ninety-three miles, yet Anderson made up the hour, coming into that city four minutes late. In the run he stopped fifteen minutes and in many instances he made a mile in fifty-threeseconds. This is good time.

Messrs. M. Frank, Julius Nathan and A. Oppenheimer returned from Terre Haute last night. President Brentano's report showed a decrease of fifty-six in the membership. During the year $40,000 was disbursed for forty death benefits in a membership of 8,000. The new buildings for the Cleveland Orphan asylum will be completed by July, but the cost is $50,000 more than the first estimate of $110,000. The fund of the district for the year was $124,000; receipts, $79,970, and disbursements about the same. There are 907 inmates at the orphan asylum.

THE MAYOR'S ANNUAL MESSAGE.

Gentlemen of the Council.

In entering upon the fourth year of the administration of the affairs of the city as its chief executive, it is proper that I should give some general review of the condition and necessities of the different departments of the city government, not only for the purpose of guiding us in the discharge of our duties in the future, but also to enable all of our citizens, whose servants and representatives we are, to better judge of how we have served them in the past.

FINANCES.

Three years ago, upon assuming the office of mayor, the bonded indebtedness of the city was $818,000, with $133,000 in the treasury and $25,000 uncollected taxes. At present the bonded indebtedness of the city is $740,000, with $120,000 in the treasury and $166,000 yet to be collected, making the indebtedness of the city $78,000 less, and the money on hand and to be collected $63,000 more, showing the city financially $141,000 better off than as compared with three years ago, an average gain of $47,000 a year; $15,000 of this amount was transferred from the water works to the general fund, it having been loaned to the water works from the general fund by a former council, the repayment of which was promised by the water works trustees. The large amount of uncollected taxes shown this year is occasioned by the fact that that the taxes are now paid in semi-annual installments, and the second installment is unpaid. During the present year the F. W., M. and C. Railroad bonds, amounting to $60,000; the C., R. and F. W. bonds, amounting to $100,000, and the F. W., J. and S. bonds, amounting to $100,000, will mature, and ought all to be, in my judgment, refunded. I am sure the very excellent credit of the city will enable the council to refund them at a low rate of interest, thereby saving at least one-third of the interest now paid. As some of these bonds mature in October, and as some time is required in preparing the bonds and advertising them, the council will soon have to take the preliminary steps in preparing them for sale. My idea in recommending that they be refunded is that the amount is so large that it would be impossible to pay them without putting a great and sudden burden upon the people, besides they can be refunded at such a low rate that it would be a greater benefit to the people to keep this sum of money among the people, and thereby enabling the city to keep step with its most enterprising citizens in advancing its interest.

WATER WORKS.

During the year just past it has become clearly evident that our water supply is very deficient and some steps will have to be taken at once to afford an additional supply, or we may find during the coming year a water famine. The great increase in consumption and the necessity for flushing sewers during the warm season make the present supply entirely unreliable, and I would earnestly recommend that the council and water works trustees take such steps at once as will give to our citizens an abundant supply of pure and wholesome water. Ever since the building of our water works the question of supply has been, to say the least, a very vexatious one. Every year the same question of supply has come up during the dry season. It has prevented many a good man from being a candidate for the council and has been the means of defeating at the polls some of our best citizens simply because they were suspected of being upon one or the other side of this question. It has engendered among some of our citizens a feeling of animosity towards each other that bids fair to be transmitted to another generation, and that can only result in retarding our otherwise prosperous and progressive city, for whose advancement all of our citizens ought to be in harmony. The trustees of water works in their report to the council at the last regular meeting, recommend that a committee be appointed to visit some of our neighboring cities to investigate their sources of supply and to get the benefit of their experience in obtaining water. There might be something gained by doing so, and it may enable the council to arrive at some plan by which the question of supply might be settled. If this be done I would recommend that a complete report be made of the condition of our water works, the different sources of supply, and then if the council and trustees cannot agree upon the best and most suitable plan to take, let the whole question be submitted to the people at a special election and let each and every one of our citizens vote his own tax and settle the question of source once and forever. In both of my former messages to the council I recommended the completion of the reservoir, for the reason that in case of an accident to the mains or to the pumping machinery, the city would be at the mercy of the flames if during such accident a fire should occur in the city, as our cisterns have all been abandoned, and the canal that used to afford a water supply for fire has also been done away with. Another good reason why it should be completed is the fact that another pumping engine will be necessary at once, if it is left in its present condition. With the reservoir completed and capable of storing 2,000,000 gallons of water, the present engines will do for several years to come, as the amount of water that would be stored would be sufficient until any ordinary break could be repaired. The city will very likely have to provide for all extensions and improvements out of the general fund, having no other source for means except such surplus as may be in the maintenance fund. If the reservoir is completed the grounds around it can be beautified and made as was originally intended a pleasure resort for all of our citizens. I ask the earnest, cordial cooperation of the council and the water works trustees in bringing about the completion of the water works as soon as possible.

THE CITY.

At no time in the history of our city has there been such steady, substantial progress as during the past three years. Over one thousand building permits have been issued, the buildings called for costing over $1,500,000. Handsome business blocks, manufactories, residences and churches of the most approved architecture, buildings that would be an ornament to any city in the land, have been erected and others are in progress of building, and all over the city handsome homes and beautiful lawns give evidence of the prosperity and enterprise of our citizens, that is rapidly making our city one of the most desirable places to live. Notwithstanding the great number of buildings that have been erected, there is a great demand in the conditions of the city for more; so quietly and naturally has our city grown that we hardly realized the great progress we have made, and only the stranger who comes to our city occasionally, or the citizen who has been away for a time, realizes how rapidly we are becoming one of the great cities of the west. There are few cities having more advantages for a great inland city than our own, situated on the line of three great trunk lines, with four other railroads running north and south, making our city one of the best distributing points in the west. The best evidence that our city is one of the best manufacturing locations in the west is the great prosperity of all that have been established here, all of whom started with limited means and some at least have attained colossal proportions. As a natural result of our many and varied manufactories we have the best and most skillful mechanics to be found in the union, many of whom own their own homes. Men who are competent and capable of taking positions in any enterprise that may be established here, thereby affording to manufacturers who are seeking a location not only one of the best manufacturing points, but also the skill required.

PARKS.

During the past year the progress made in the improvement of our public parks has been necessarily slow for the reason that not sufficient funds were on hand to prosecute the work with, and in the case of the Broadway park more particularly for the reason that the remains of many who were interred there had not been removed, and as many of the friends of the interred had removed to other localities it was necessary to wait until their wishes with regard to them were made known, the council having been careful to notify all who had any interest in the matter, so far as they could determine. During the past four months the parks have been placed under the supervision of Mr. Geo. W. Dowell, under whose skillful direction the Broadway park is fast beginning to show what a pleasant resort for all it will become in a few years. There are now sufficient funds on hand to do all that can be done for the present in the way of improving the parks, such as grading, laying out walks, sowing grass seed and planting trees, shrubbery and flowers, and as it will take time for nature to develop them, I urge the council to complete the work as rapidly as possible.

STREETS.

During the past three years the sidewalks on both sides of Calhoun street, from Dock street to the P., Ft. W. & C. R. R., Columbia street on both sides, from Barr street to Harrison street, and the south side of Berry from Calhoun to Clinton have been widened to a width of twelve feet and paved with a uniform stone flag, and there is now under contract the north side of Berry street from Harrison street to Barr street and the south side of Berry from Calhoun to Harrison to be paved with the same material and to the same width, making in all about ten thousand feet of uniform stone flag sidewalk, not excelled in any city. There has also been about six thousand feet of the Macadam and cobble stone and about the same number of feet of cedar block street pavement laid and being laid, which when completed will give to us well improved business streets for many years to come. I would recommend that the council procure street sweepers at once, as I believe the improved streets could be kept constantly cleaned for a less sum than is now expended for their occasional cleaning. Our unimproved streets for the limited amount of money that we had to expend upon them have been with the exception of a few months in the year in excellent condition, and will compare favorably, I am sure, with the streets of any city. My experience and observation of another year tends to confirm the wisdom of narrowing the roadway of residence streets wherever the council order such improvement made, as the cost of making and maintaining them is very much less and the grass plot thereby afforded between the curb and sidewalk adds a great deal to the beauty of the street. I would also again recommend that wooden crossings be done away with and stone substituted. Stone would cost a little more to begin with, but would be much cheaper in the end, as wooden crossings have to be renewed every three or four years and are frequently in a condition dangerous to pedestrians. During the past year the duties of the civil engineer have been greatly increased and it has been impossible for him to give that attention to the work going on in different parts of the city that should be bestowed upon it, and in consequence there has been much complaint about the manner in which work was done, especially in the manner in which streets and alleys were left after sewers had been built. I believe that one inspector for all grades of work, whose duty it would be to report at every meeting of the council the condition and progress of the different contracts let, would enable the council to compel a better class of work and be cheaper for all concerned, than the appointment of an inspector for each sewer, as is now done.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The annual report of the chief engineer of the fire department is complete, and comprehensive and shows how well this arm of the public service has performed the duties required of it. We have now the Gamewell, the best and most approved fire alarm system, with forty-seven boxes. The great distance from the central engine house to the limits of the city and the great improvements going on in all parts of the city, make it absolutely necessary that the further distribution of the department be no longer delayed, and I join with the chief in urging the council to locate and procure the proper sites in the Fifth, Eighth and Ninth wards for the location of engines, and have houses built as speedily as possible. Another great and urgent need of the department is an improved hook and ladder truck. It is impossible to reach the high buildings now going up and I am informed by the chief that there is not a ladder in the department that will reach the fourth story of the Aveline house. From this fact the council can readily see how important to take prompt action in the matter. I also believe with the chief that a chemical engine would, in half the fires that occur, be all that would be necessary to control them, and would reduce the loss in most cases very materially, as the damage by water is very often much more than the damage by fire, but as the saving would nearly always be for the insurance companies, and as in other cities insurance companies do very frequently assist the fire department, I believe they ought to furnish the department with the engine.

POLICE.

During the past year the police force has been increased from 18 to 27 men, not including the day and night clerks at the station house, which has enabled us to place six men on duty in the day time. The city has been divided into six districts and a police officer assigned to each district. Under the old system the day men went on duty at 7 a. m. and off duty at 6 p. m.; the night force went on duty at twilight and off duty at daybreak, leaving the city for several hours each day with no one on duty. Much complaint was justly made under the old system on account of roughs taking advantage of the time when no officers were on duty. Since the new system has been inaugurated no complaints have been made. During the past year the policemarm and patrol wagon have also been added to the department, giving us now one of the best and most complete systems in the west, and there are now at all hours, day or night, officers on duty to respond to an alarm that may be sent from any quarter of the city. During the past year the city has been as orderly and free from crime as any city of our population, but little serious crime having been committed during the past three years, but in most cases of a serious character the guilty parties have been captured and convicted, nor have there been any confidence men or thieves making their stay here during that time or any of them allowed to get a foot in this city. The police force, both day and night, have preserved the lives and property of our citizens, and as well, the enjoyment of the public streets unmolested by improper characters at all times, day or night.

CITY HALL.

Three years ago the council were all of the opinion that the city ought to begin to make preparations for the building of a new city hall. At that time it was the general opinion that the central engine house site was the proper place to build it, and the council were unanimously in favor of making a small levy each year until a sum sufficient to build it had accumulated. There has now accumulated in that fund about $20,000. Last year, however, the common council, in view of the fact that many other improvements were necessary, such as the division of the fire department, the building of a central engine house, the completion of the water works, all of which would have to be provided for before a new city hall could be built, and believing that they could best serve the city and the tax payer by disposing of the old central engine house property, and taking the proceeds with the fund already on hand for that purpose, build the new city hall on the north end of the present site. By so doing it would not be necessary to make more than one more levy for that purpose.

The estimated cost of a central engine house would be about $12,000, and $4,000 each for the 8th, 8th and 9th ward houses, making in all $24,000 for that purpose, which would, with another levy, be ample for a handsome, commodious city building, and give to our progressive city all the improvements without any further taxation.

HEALTH.

During the past year the health of the city has been remarkably good. There has been a decrease this year over last in the death rate from contagious diseases. There has been some scarlet fever, diphtheria and typhoid fever, there being 23 deaths during the past year from those diseases. As all of those diseases are aided and accelerated by uncleanliness, I trust that all of our citizens will assist the board of health in keeping it make the city clean as specially as possible by keeping their premises in the best condition at once, thereby relieving the board of the duty and trouble of compelling them to do so by prosecution.

NATURAL GAS.

In concluding my recommendations, I will refer to the natural gas question by saying that the council will have before it to-night for consideration a general ordinance, substantially like the one under which three companies are now operating in Indianapolis, both to the advantage of its citizens and the fair remuneration of the companies. While the prices fixed are among the lowest of any city, it pays the companies fair returns. Indianapolis, I believe, goes ten miles for its supply. If by reason of the necessity of going a greater distance to supply our city the cost is increased, I am satisfied our council would agree to any change in the ordinance that would be fair to our people and just to a company, and I may say to any company looking towards supplying our city with gas, I have no fear of your ability to get a fair and just ordinance. Our city wants natural gas and will do whatever is just to get it.

CONCLUSION

The credit of the progress and prosperity of your city belongs in the greatest measure to its officers and representatives. The council, by its watchfulness and care, have kept the appraisement down to about $16,000,000, what it was 13 years ago, although, as a matter of fact, the city has more than doubled its wealth and population in that time. By good judgment the levy has been kept at one dollar, whereas it was formerly one dollar and twenty cents. With this low levy and appraisement, through the good judgment of the council and the faithful energy of its officers, the city has kept in step with the progressive march of its most enterprising citizens. I now ask of you all to keep on in your good work; guard faithfully and economically with good judgment, as you have in the past, the general public service entrusted to you by the people, to whom we all must answer, and you will have in the near future the satisfaction of knowing that you were architects in the making and building of one of the principal cities of the great west.

CHAS. F. MUHLER, Mayor.

REPORT OF THE WATER WORKS TRUSTEES.

Since our meeting with the committee on water works we have received letters from the board of health in Toledo, Ohio, in regard to the water supply, of the most favorable character. The situation at Hamilton was precisely like our own. Their supply came from a large artificial basin 60 feet wide 500 feet in length. For a time this supply was sufficient, but at last only eighteen feet deep, they had to look for more water. They have put down a number of pipes under the Waterous system, in their present basin, and although they are not connected with the pumps they have a flow into the basin of over three million gallons daily.

These letters are of such an assuring character that we hope a committee of gentlemen of the council will visit these cities for the purpose of investigating the subject thoroughly, so that we may proceed as soon as possible to increase and improve our own supply.

The test we have already made with the small pipe in our basin convinces us that we can receive our supply in the same manner as is done in Hamilton.
